In her role as COO, Tyche will spearhead the overall business operations, collaborating closely with Creative Director, Mike Fisher and CEO, James Kandutsch to support and achieve the company's strategic objectives. With a proven track record in leadership and senior management, Tyche brings a wealth of knowledge, empowering her to establish enduring policies, streamline process and cultivate a company culture that enhances the operational efficiency of the Studio.

"I'm incredibly excited to see Tyche step into this new role within the Studio. Her calm and positive nature coupled, with her pragmatic skills in both design and management, have made her invaluable to the Board of Directors and I trust she will elevate the Studio into new horizons. I can think of no one better to drive the operations of the Studio and am proud to see her partner alongside us as we journey into the future – says CEO, James Kandutsch.

Tyche, a passionate South African Architect, joined Studio Indigo in 2007 and has since played a pivotal role as part of the Board of Directors and as Head of Architecture. With over 15 years of industry experience, Tyche has been instrumental in delivering some of the Studio's most prestigious projects, contributing significantly to the growth and success of the office.

Reflecting on her appointment, Tyche says: "I am honoured to step into the position of Chief Operating Officer (COO) at Studio Indigo, and I am incredibly grateful for the trust and belief placed in me to guide our Company towards a prosperous future. The journey ahead is an exciting one, and I am eager to lead our talented team towards continued success. Together, we will build upon our past achievements, overcome new challenges and steer our company towards a future filled with growth, innovation, and unparalleled excellence in design."

"We are delighted to acknowledge Tyche's unwavering commitment to the Studio. Her ability to operate autonomously, coupled with her empathetic, people-centric leadership approach and dedication to providing exemplary service to our clients, makes her the ideal for this role" – Says Mike Fisher.
